REFFIND signs channel partner agreement and secures new client

- Channel partner agreement with recruitment platform specialist TurboRecruit
- TurboRecruit to seamlessly link its technology with REFFIND
- First new client stemming from channel partnership – Smartsalary

Employee experience technology company REFFIND Limited (ASX:RFN) has signed its first channel partner agreement with leading online recruitment software company TurboRecruit.

TurboRecruit is a cloud-based recruitment system designed for agency and corporate recruiters to intelligently match candidates to job vacancies.

With over 7000 users across 30 countries the TurboRecruit system reduces the cost and time to recruit by allowing recruiters to find qualified candidates prior to advertising.

The system mines any database for relevant and current candidates using multiple keyword searching and artificial intelligence. It can source candidates from scores of job boards, track applicants, manage candidate and client communications.

TurboRecruit has commenced promotion of REFFIND to its range of clients, which includes renowned corporates and organisations both in Australia and overseas.

“We are very excited about the relationship with REFFIND. Our objective is to provide our clients with an ecosystem of alternative software solutions that may be useful in their recruiting endeavours either strategically or operationally,” said RecruitAdvantage Commercial Manager James Macdonald.

“Linking seamlessly with TurboRecruit’s applicant tracking system, REFFIND will provide referral candidates into the system for clients using its Employ platform.”

REFFIND has secured its first client resulting from the new agreement in one of Australia’s leading salary packaging businesses, Smartsalary. Part of ASX-listed

REFFIND

Smartgroup Corporation, Smartsalary specialises in servicing large corporate customers, major healthcare institutions, Commonwealth and State Governments.

“TurboRecruit is a leader in recruitment management and will provide us with an outstanding new channel to market,” said REFFIND APAC Vice President Nick Hillier.

“We are already seeing the benefit of this with introductions to potential new clients and the signing of Smartsalary.”
